

Mississippi's Protection & Advocacy Agency for People with Disabilities

Disability Rights Mississippi is an advocacy organization committed to protecting the rights of Mississippians with disabilities. We are guided by law, steeped in values, and fighting for full inclusion for Mississippians with disabilities in home, community, education, and employment.

Phone: 601-968-0600

Offices: Jackson and Gulfport

Email: ptribble@drms.ms or jwalton@drms.ms

www.drms.ms @DisRightsMS

CONTACT US

WHAT WE DO

INDIVIDUAL ADVOCACY

TRAINING & EDUCATION

SYSTEMIC CHANGE

DRMS has provided free legal advocacy services to clients with diverse disabilities for over 40 years. We train parents on advocacy for their child in special education; provide rights trainings for people residing in facilities connect them with community services; and advocate in areas of physical accessibility, transportation, employment accommodations and promote equal access to the electoral process.

HOW WE HELP YOU

- Depend on DRMS for information about topics related to the lives of constituents with disabilities
- Connect with DRMS to help with ideas for inclusion & upholding individual rights
- Include DRMS in your conversations about ideas for more innovative policy change and efforts to increase diversity